SUMMARY

Two Military Installations, Kraskino Army Barracks West [REDACTED] at 42-42N 130-47E and Kraskino Army Barracks Railroad Station East [REDACTED] at 42-42N 130-50E, are located immediately south and 5 kilometers (km) east of Kraskino, respectively (Figure 1). Training areas for the installations are located 12 km west-northwest and 3 km northeast of Kraskino. Kraskino Army Barracks West possibly provides support for the Kraskino MRBM Launch Site [REDACTED] located 10 km west-northwest of Kraskino.

Kraskino Army Barracks West and its related logistics installations cover approximately 380 acres and contain 4 administration buildings, 3 administration buildings/barracks, 7 barracks, 26 quarters-type buildings, 33 storage buildings, 3 vehicle sheds, 2 motor pools, 3 explosives storage buildings, 3 probable explosives storage buildings, 2 small-arms firing ranges, 1 athletic field, and 70 support buildings (Figures 2 and 3).

Kraskino Army Barracks Railroad Station East covers approximately 150 acres and contains 1 administration building, 4 barracks, 20 quarters-type buildings, 7 storage buildings, 2 vehicle sheds, 1 possible bunker, 1 athletic/parade field, and 9 support buildings.

The training areas in the Kraskino area cover approximately 900 acres and contain 1 tracked-vehicle driver-training course which incorporates a tank/assault-gun firing range and a possible combined-arms field training course, 1 tank/assault-gun firing range, 1 firing range for vehicle-mounted, probable automatic weapons, and 2 AAA sites (Figure 4).

The installations were covered by TALENT mission in [REDACTED] KEYHOLE missions between [REDACTED]

Comparative analysis indicates that the level of activity at the tank/assault-gun range has increased from light in [REDACTED] to medium [REDACTED]

An increase in the level of activity was also observed on the firing range for vehicle-mounted, probable automatic weapons--from light in [REDACTED] to medium [REDACTED]

The overall level of activity in the barracks areas has remained constant during the period observed.
